Requirements

The call is open to all applicants with a second level degree obtained in Italy or abroad. The PhD Board will have to establish whether the degree awarded abroad could be considered equivalent to an Italian degree or not, through a specific assessment limited to the PhD call purposes.

Graduating students are invited to apply too, provided that the graduation must be achieved by October 31st, 2025.

Information on the degree must be always provided during the application process by the applicants, both graduated and graduating. Applicants can download and edit the specific forms available at https://dottorati.uniroma2.it/40-ciclo\_p10297.aspx to this end (form A for Italian applicants and form B for non Italian applicants). Moreover, form C for Italian applicants and form D for non Italian applicants are also available to provide information about Bachelor's degree if required.

The PhD description pages, for each PhD Program, are listed at https://dottorati.uniroma2.it/pagina.aspx?id\_pagina=10299. By clicking on a PhD Program, applicants will be able to download the file containing all the specific requirements for that programme along with the expected dates of the exams. The requirements files form an integral part of the call, it is strongly recommended to read carefully before starting the application process, with particular reference to the documents marked as mandatory.

Foreign applicants

Foreign applicants are only those with a foreign citizenship, that is not italian. Foreign applicants with a degree obtained in Italy are still considered foreigners for the PhD Call purposes. They must submit their applications with the online procedure described in the paragraph "Application procedure". When entering their personal data in the online form, applicants are required to enter all the first names and last names on their passport. Moreover, applicants are invited to avoid the use of nicknames, shorts and terms of endearment since their use will result in an invalid fiscal code assigned by the submission system.

Foreign candidates who apply for positions with scholarships, even if reserved for foreigners, must follow the competition procedures for such positions, as specified in the Call for Applications.

Only Independent Candidates (c.d. Foreign Country Fellows/Borsisti di Stato Estero), since these are without a scholarship and self-financed, may, upon express written request to the Coordinator of the Doctoral Program chosen for their application, enjoy the advantage of being exempted from any written exam, of being able to take the oral exam remotely and of being placed in a reserved ranking list with respect to ordinary candidates.

In addition to the requirements of both the call for applications and the PhD description sheets, foreign applicants with a non-EU degree title must submit the Declaration of Value to the PhD Office (mail to concorso@phd.uniroma2.it), within 6 months from the enrolment date. In alternative foreign applicants are able to apply for the CIMEA Certificate of Verification including the Statements of Comparability (please note that the Statements of Comparability are substituted with the Statements of Correspondence). Foreign applicants with EU degree titles are not required to provide either the DoV or the CIMEA documents, however they must provide the Diploma Supplement according to the Directive 2005/36/CE.

Applicants with disability

In accordance to art. 3 of Law 104/1992, candidates with disability and/or Specific Learning Disorders that needs assistance and/or additional time have to notify the University Committee for Students with Disabilities by email at the following addresses segreteria@caris.uniroma2.it and concorso@phd.uniroma2.it:

- requests for ordinary assistance have to be sent at least 10 days before the first examination test;
- requests for special technology assistance have to be sent at least 20 days before the first examination test.

All assistance forms are available at this link: http://caris.uniroma2.it/?page\_id=208.

Application procedure

Please refer to the application quick guide provided by the IT office (only in italian):

<https://dottorati.uniroma2.it/Public/download/66ca81c3-cbc3-41f9-a603-c5687f09fc2e.pdf>

Applicants can submit multiple applications. Each application must be started ex novo. All applicants, both italian and foreign, are required to pay the application fee of 35 euros, for each submitted applications by June 6th, 2025.

Enrolment

Admitted foreign applicants fill in the on-line enrolment application form according to the instructions that will be given to everyone after they have been admitted to the PhD course.

The deadline for the candidates' enrolment will be communicated together with the publication of the decree approving the competition records and it is to be considered mandatory.

All admitted foreign candidates will receive a further communication containing the following:

- an Invitation Letter
- a list of the documents that are required to enable the enrolment process

Therefore, in order to enable the enrolment process, admitted foreign candidates must have submitted all the documents that will be indicated to them in the invitation letter, as previously indicated.

For the purpose of completing the enrolment process, all applicants will be required to produce some declarations, regardless of nationality. In particular, all admitted applicants will have to self-certify

- not to be enrolled in any other PhD Program for the entire duration of the course;
- to undertake to ask the PhD Board for the authorisation to either carry out any external work activities or to continue the work activity carried out at the time of enrolment on the doctoral course, on condition that the gross income does not exceed the gross annual amount of the doctoral scholarship set at €20,037.45
- to be aware that the final doctoral thesis must be positively evaluated by two external referees to the PhD Board and it must be archived in the University repository
- (only in the case of a candidates entitled to a scholarship) not to have already received a scholarship or fraction of a scholarship for any other PhD Program;
- (only in the case of a candidates entitled to a scholarship) not to combine the scholarship with any other scholarship, except with those financed by national or foreign institutions for the only purpose of supporting the doctoral student's research activity with stays abroad
- (only in the case of a candidates entitled to a scholarship financed by some external body) to be aware that, scholarships funded by external bodies shall be awarded only after both the signature of the Agreement and the payment of the annual instalments by the funder. Before the enrolment will be effective, the candidate will be asked to fill in and sign a form of full acceptance of the conditions of disbursement of the external scholarship, to this end.
- (only in the case of a candidates entitled to a scholarship) to be aware that, in case the scholarship provides for a specific research topic, the scholarship may be awarded only upon acceptance of the aforementioned topic.

Enroled students accept to fully comply with the current PhD Regulation of University of Rome Tor Vergata, issued by Decree of the Rector n. 495 of February 6th, 2025, available at dottorati.uniroma2.it, and any future amendments that may be made during the entire duration of the PhD Program;

Take-overs

Admitted candidates who have not completed the on-line application form by the established deadlines will be considered as waivers; the vacancies will be assigned, according to the ranking list, to the successful candidates who have presented a request to take over by the established deadlines.

Eligible non-admitted candidates may submit a request to be taken over in accordance with the procedures that will be available at https://dottorati.uniroma2.it/atti-concorsuali-xli\_p10303.aspx.

Grounds for exclusion and application rejection

All documents provided by the applicants for the purpose of submitting applications will be subject to verification. Any document found to be mendacious, including letters of reference, will result in the exclusion of the candidate from the competition at any stage of the procedure, even after either the exams have been held, or the selection process has been completed. Any documentation found to be false legal action will be pursued.

In addition, the University may order, by way of self-defence, even after enrolment and at the beginning of the first year, the invalidation of enrolment for those candidates whose documentation is found to be defective or whose self-declarations and/or documents are found to be false. In case the candidate is excluded after the admission to the PhD Program, he/she is also required to repay any scholarship instalments received during the current year. Exclusion, in this case, will be ordered by Rectoral Decree.

Applicants will be excluded by the PhD Program and/or application will be rejected ex officio in the following events:

- non-payment or late payment of the competition participation fee;
- failure to meet the requirements for admission, including the degree classes indicated in the PhD description sheets;
- failure to upload the mandatory information and documents, not subject to the Soccorso Istruttoria; this case includes any uploading of empty files and files containing different information then requested.
- failure to submit self-certification of the awarded degree qualification, if the applicants were not graduated at the time of both the application and the exams

Evaluation process

The maximum cumulative score for each candidate, that considers both admission test and declared qualifications, is 100 points.

The minimum threshold for admission is a cumulative score of 60 up to 100.

Information on the exams will be exclusively given at https://dottorati.uniroma2.it/diario-delle-prove-xli\_p10302.aspx.

If the admission test includes both the written exam and the oral exam, the date of the oral exam will be noticed the day of the written exam.

Candidates will be admitted to PhD courses according to the final ranking lists until all available positions are assigned.

In case a candidate is included in multiple ranking lists, he/she must choose only one PhD for effective enrolment.

Information on the ranking lists will be exclusively given at https://dottorati.uniroma2.it/atti-concoursuali-xli\_p10303.aspx.

Scholarships

Similarly to the PhD positions, scholarships are granted according to the final ranking list. The University scholarship gross amount is € 20.037,45 per year including social security contributions (INPS) and it is exempt from IRPEF income tax. The scholarship will be granted on a monthly basis and has a yearly validity. It can be renewed for a maximum of three years if the candidate's activities are positively evaluated by the PhD Board. The net monthly amount of the scholarship is €1.195.

The annual amount of the University scholarships related to Materials for Sustainable Development and Chemical Sciences PhD Programs is increased by € 7000 as both programs belong to the Departments of Excellence.

Scholarships are awarded for one year and renewed on condition that the doctoral student has completed all the program's activities planned for the previous year.

Scholarships are granted for a maximum period of three years (36 months), with the exception of the PhD Program in Economics and Finance whose duration is four years (48 months).

All scholarships funded by external bodies shall be awarded only after the signature of the Agreement with the external funder, which shall provide for the coverage of the cost of the grant itself along with the possible surcharge for the stay abroad, the mobility and research funds in accordance with the regulations in force, as well as the insurance of fidejussione. In the event of failure to sign the Agreement with the external funder or the insurance of fidejussione, the scholarship cannot be activated, thereby excluding any liability of any nature on the part of the University.

Payment of the grant is made in postponed monthly instalments except for the first instalment, which may be disbursed over a period of 2 to 4 months.
